Bromley Adult Community Nutrition and Dietetics

We are registered dietitians who work in Bromley to give expert advice on nutrition and dietetics.

You can be referred to us if you are over 18 and registered with a Bromley GP. Your GP or a qualified medical practitioner can refer you to us or you may call us yourself. We work closely with your GP and they may share any relevant information with us.

What are our aims?

Our aims are to:

- Increase awareness of the link between nutrition and health and promote healthy eating within the community.
- Provide advice for individuals and groups who have specific dietary needs.
- Provide information and training for other health professionals. (Please note: Home visits are available for patients that are housebound.)

How can we help you?

- We can see you in our clinics, your care home, or your own home (if you are not able to leave your home) for dietary advice.
- We can give you advice to help you gain weight and improve your nutritional status.

- We can advise you on the best foods to eat if you have medical conditions requiring dietary support.
- We will look after your nutritional needs if you are tube fed. We have a specially trained nurse working with our team to help support you and your tube feed.
- We can provide training to nursing, residential and learning disability care homes and other health professionals on all aspects of diet and nutrition.

Where can you find us?

We run clinics across the borough of Bromley and we will try and see you in a clinic close to where you live. All of our clinics have wheelchair access. Visit: www.bromleyhealthcare.org.uk/dietitians to find out where our clinics are.

We are available from Monday to Friday during normal working hours; any messages left out of hours will be picked up on the next working day.
